

DUNDONALD HISTORICAL & ARCHIVE SOCIETY
Dundonald Castle Visitor Centre

To Whom it may concern,

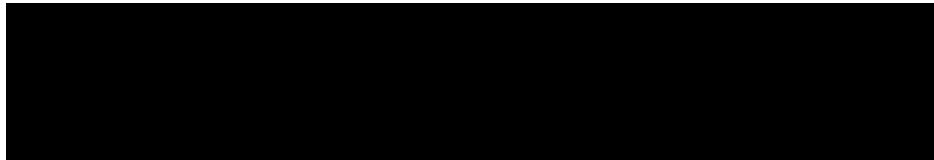

Dundonald Historical & Archive Society acknowledges the important part that the Friends of Dundonald Castle, and the Visitors Centre, play in the life of Dundonald and in the much wider area.

As one of the groups that use the centre on a regular basis we could not exist without the facilities they offer our group. We are also aware of the important and active part the Friends of Dundonald Castle play in the education of children from many schools across Scotland and the importance that the teaching staff in these schools place on the visits they make to Dundonald Castle.

The numerous international visitors that come to visit the castle, and the experience they have there, can only enhance Scotland's attractiveness as a tourist destination.

We wish the Friends of Dundonald Castle well in realising the plans they have for the future of an expanded Visitors Centre and their desires to play an even larger role in the community and in the educational field. It is much to their credit that they have, and will continue to involve all of the groups in the community both in their activities and in their plans for the future.

Yours Sincerely

Secretary
