PLACEMAKING IN SOUTH AYRSHIRE

Introduction

South Ayrshire Council is currently undertaking Place Plans with many of the communities in South Ayrshire. These plans are at the heart of a new approach to placemaking in South Ayrshire, one that is embedded within, and driven by the Community's own concerns and aspirations. The aim is to develop plans collaboratively with the community that are a true reflection of the priorities of those who live and work in the towns and villages of South Ayrshire. The plans will provide a series of actions that the community, the Council and other partners can work together in delivering.

Between November 2021 and February 2022, the Council undertook a series of Community Conversations with the community in Loans, that sought to identify the main concerns facing residents. This report presents the findings from the engagements and provides the basis from which the next round of conversations can take place where actions to address priorities will be developed.

Outcome of Engagement

The Community Conversations in Loans began in November 2021 and continued through February 2022. The engagement consisted of a number of focused meetings with community groups as well as an online survey. The Scottish Government designed Place Standard toolkit was used to measure and assess the community's priorities.

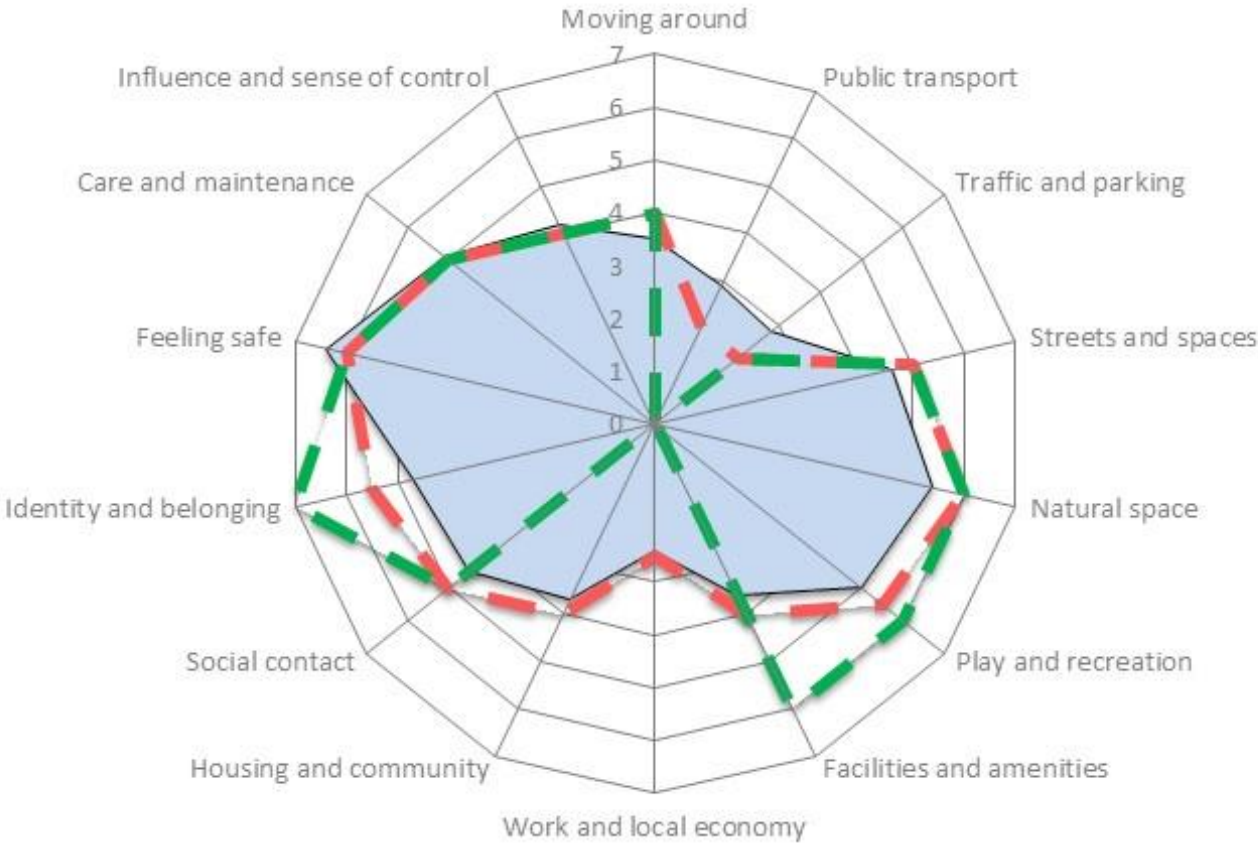

The Place Standard sees a score awarded for each of the identified topics that make up a successful place. This ranges from 1, where most improvement is needed, to 7, where no improvement is needed. The scores given by each member of the community who took part were averaged to give an indication of priorities. A total of 10 people took part in the consultation including from 2 in person surveys and 8 online surveys.

The findings of the consultation are laid out in the table below, and in the diagram on the following page. Three topics were identified as being of particular concern, scoring below the median of 3.5: Work and local economy (scoring 2.4), Traffic and Parking (scoring 2.8) and Public Transport (scoring 2.9).

At the other end of the scale Feeling Safe, Natural Space and Care and Maintenance scored highly.

Next Steps

The community conversations undertaken to date have established the strengths and weaknesses and priority issues facing Loans. This information will be used as the baseline for developing actions that will form the final Place Plan in due course. A number of workshops will now be held with community groups to further investigate the issues and possible actions that could be undertaken to address these. Following these workshops a draft Place Plan will be prepared and published online for comment and further input from the wider community.
